The May 2012 Resident Recognition Award was presented to the Psychiatry R.O.C.K.'s team. Psychiatry R.O.C.K.'s stands for “Psychiatry Resident Orientation, Clinical Skills & Knowledge.” Team leader Sonal Moratschek spent many hours putting together a master plan of educational opportunities for the incoming residents. The team included: Kate Svala, Blessing Igboeli, Kelly Andrzejczyk,

An'Drea Taylor, Dimitrios Tsatiris, Stephanie Pope and Elise Bonder

In brief, the team will provide multiple sessions for the incoming residents beginning in orientation and continuing into the summer didactic program. The goals of this endeavor are:

1. Help new residents reach the four ACGME goals for advancement to indirect supervision:
 - a) The ability and willingness to ask for help when indicated
 - b) Gathering of an appropriate history
 - c) The ability to perform an emergency psychiatric assessment
 - d) Presenting patient findings and data accurately
2. Create/Teach handoff materials
3. Learn what medical clearance is
4. Learn the role of the resident at UH Richmond

In addition, Stephanie Pope has led the effort to revise the intern handbook and with the help of her peers, she's produced a remarkable document. This will be the best prepared intern class we have ever had!

General News:

Ray Isackila, LPCC, LICDC, of Addiction Recovery Services was interviewed by WKYC TV Channel 19 as part of their Casino Countdown week to address the serious side of gambling. "It is important to point out that an addiction to this form of entertainment is similar to drug use. We talked about the fun side of casino gambling but there is a serious side, almost an underside to all this... Like drug and alcohol addiction, gambling is a problem that starts with tolerance. Gambling $30 was fun. Now it takes $100 and then eventually $200. We have denial about breaking our value system, we make it okay somehow and we do it again."
